Butler County Republicans are Jubilant

Butler, Pa., Oct. 5.---Butler county Republican men's and women's committee held a rousing joint political convention in this city Saturday afternoon. Every precinct in the county, 78 in all, was represented by its committeeman or committeewoman or by a proxy.

The women committee workers served the luncheon and the most enthusiastic Republican meeting in the history of the county was the result. Chairman J. B. Mates of the county committee predicted that Butler county will give Harding and Coolidge and the congressional and legislative candidates at least 5,000 majority.

Addresses were made by State Senator Christly of Butler, Womer and Cratty, the legislative nominees. Adam M Wyant, of Greensburg, Republican nominee for congress in this district, made a great speech declaring the welfare of the country demands the election of a Republican president and a Republican senate and congress of the same party affiliation. Mr. Wyant emphasized the shortcomings of the Wilson administration which Cox pledges himself to continue, if elected.

Levi M. Wise, editor of the Butler Eagle, and one of the most prominent Republicans in the county, the candidate from this county for the nomination before the voters, attended the rally and predicted a landslide for the Republican ticket just four weeks hence

17th Anniversary

This week the Janavitz store, one of Monessen's oldest and most reliable mercantile establishments, will celebrate its seventeenth anniversary, an event which few if any other establishments in the city can boast. For seventeen years, almost since the inception of the town as a borough, the Janavitz store has been a prominent figure in the mercantile business of the town and by successful business methods, coupled with courteous treatment and a progressive spirit the store has remained among the foremost not only in the town but in the upper Monongahela valley.

The store was first located on Schoonmaker avenue and for years carried on a successful merchandise business there, but realizing the trend to Donner avenue the establishment moved to Sixth and Donner and then to their present location where old and new friends in legion are being cared for by courteous clerks under the personal supervision of Mrs Janavitz.

Mrs. Janavitz has been preparing for some time for this memorable event and has left nothing undone towards making the affair not only an occasion for a welcoming of old and new customers, but also a money saving event for those who visit the store.

Surprise Party

A surprise party was given last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs James Morrison, in Essen, in honor of Charles Neil, a brother of Mrs. Morrison. Mr. Neil has been in poor health for some time and will leave this week for Florida, where he will spend some time. About fifty young people were present and the evening was spent in games and music and a lunch was served Mr. Neil was the recipient of many presents which were much appreciated. At a late hour the guests returned home after wishing the honor guest a safe and beneficial trip.

Ration Natural Gas

Strict rationing of natural gas by communities to conserve the supply in this territory was suggested by Samuel S. Wyer, consulting engineer of the United States Bureau of Mines, an an address to representatives of women's clubs and civic organizations yesterday in the Bureau of Mines, opening the educational campaign on gas conservation. By his plan, each city and town would be allotted each day a definite proportion of the gas available.

Mr. Wyer also urged the adoption and compulsory use of efficient burners in households, saying those now used generally give but 14 per cent efficiency. "There will never be adequate conservation," he continued, "as long as the price remains as low as it is today With proper appliances, natural gas at 90 cents per 1,000 cubic feet would cost the domestic consumer no more than it now does at 30 cents"

It was decided, in connection with the educational campaign, to urge Gov. Sproul to issue a proclamation outlining the menace facing the people by the threatened exhaustion of the natural gas supply.

Chicago, Oct 5---The United court of Appeals of Chicago district upheld the conviction of "Big Bill" Haywood and 93 other I. W. W. men convicted of charges growing out of the violation of war acts.

Senator Borah Declares for Harding and Americanism

(By United Press)

New York, Oct. 5.---Gratification was manifest at Republican national headquarters today over what was regarded as the closing of the Borah incident

The Idaho senator, who had been reported to have become so dissatisfied with Senator Harding's position on the league of nations that he was considering withdrawing entirely from the campaign, made it clear in his speech at Danbury, Conn., last night that he will continue to support the national ticket.

In an interview with the newspaper men before delivery of his speech, which was devoted almost entirely to an attack on the league, Borah said he would support Harding.

"There isn't any alternative," he declared "Gov. Cox is committed to the league, while Senator Harding has declared in favour of staying out."

When questioned regarding Harding's statement that the Candidate's views regarding the league are in harmony with those of Borah and Senator Johnson, Borah said:

"Senator Harding has heard me discuss the matter on the Senate for eighteen months, and he ought to know my views If he accepts them then we are in perfect accord"

While he was expected in Danbury, Borah had a lengthy conference in New York with Col. Thomas W. Miller, Chief of the eastern division of the Republican speakers' bureau, during which, according to Miller, complete arrangement was reached whereby Borah would continue to make speeches in the east under the auspices of the national committee. Miller said Borah agreed to have Miller make dates for him in New Hampshire where the Senator will speak in behalf of the candidacy of Senator Moses, following his tour of Connecticut Miller indicated that arrangements would be made, if possible, for Borah to speak also in New York for Senator Wadsworth and in Maryland for O E Weller. The Republican senatorial committee hoped also to book Borah for a few speeches in North Carolina and Alabama.

Plans for the big Columbus Day celebration here on Tuesday, October 12, have been about completed and with nearly $2,500 collected by the finance committee, everything points to a successful day The parade promises to be the big attraction of the day Several bands will be in line along with several thousand marchers from this and surrounding towns.

A feature of the parade will be the mammoth floats. In addition to the bands here for the parade the committee has arranged for two of the organizations to appear on the streets early in the morning and remain until the festivities are brought to an end at night.

The day will be opened with a salute early in the morning and to be followed by band concerts and an athletic program at Electric park. Throughout the day daylight fireworks will be set off at the park, to include aerial flags of all nations which will float over the city as the parade traverses the principal streets of the town.

The evening fireworks promise to attract many to this city during the night. The committee is anxious that all organizations intending to participate in the parade communicate with them at once so that they may be placed in sections.

Fatal Accident

Duncan Matheson, aged 29 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Matheson of Roscoe, died Sunday afternoon at about 1 o'clock in his home, from the injuries received when he was struck by an automobile Sunday morning.

Matheson, in company with a number of young men, was standing on the sidewalk on the Main street in Roscoe Sunday morning at about 2 o'clock. Noticing a car coming down the street and thinking that he knew the driver Matheson rushed out into the middle of the street to halt the car, in order that he might get a ride to his home. The driver, John Kairns of Roscoe, not seeing the man until he was almost upon him, was unable to bring the car to a stop. The car hit Matheson, knocking him down, causing his head to strike the curb stone.

Matheson was a very popular young man and was known all along the Monongahela valley. He has played in Monessen a number of times with the Elco foot ball team and had many friends here He had been employed in the coal mine near Roscoe

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, in his late home. Interment was made in the Roscoe cemetery.

Committee of Council and Street Car Co. Disagree

Paving of east Donner avenue may come to a standstill and the public as well as those who have business enterprises along that thoroughfare may be caused great inconvenience unless the next judgment on the part of all concerned takes firm hold. It seems there is a dispute between the borough engineers and the engineers of the street railway company as to what constitutes a concrete base and so far they have failed to come to a workable understanding

At a recent committee meeting of council, drastic action was taken to settle the dispute through a process of law and W D. Hunter was directed to ask court to grand a temporary injunction restraining the company from proceeding further with the work of laying foundation and tracks until the issue has been settled But interested citizens believe the mater can be settled without the expense and delay caused by court action and are inclined to bring together committees from all parties concerned and come to a common understanding and the latter method seems likely to prevail.

REPUBLICAN IN POLITICS

COLUMBUS DAY

Columbus Day is now a legal holiday in two thirds of the states, and will be generally celebrated in all of them before long. The people are glad of this breathing spell in the long pull between Labor Day and Thanksgiving. They are well pleased to have a day set aside in honor of the man who opened up this country to modern civilization.

In his time Columbus was regarded as a crack brained adventurer. The successful men of wealth, the politicians of his time, scorned him, as lacking in ordinary common sense.. Yet while they are forgotten, the name of Columbus goes down to all history as one of the great benefactors of the race.

Everyone can have in his own life a little of the Columbus spirit, the willingness to try the unknown and venture out in search of better things. There is too much of a tendency in a settled society to follow along the same old ruts.

But people who wish to learn from the spirit of Columbus, should read his life and note what an exceedingly practical man he was. He was no dreamer starting off in search of new utopias which existed only in his imagination. He had long pursued a sea faring life.

In order to pursue his career under the most promising opportunities, he had left his home to serve in the ships of the Portuguese, then the best sailors of the world. As a skilled mariner and map maker, his opinion as to the existence of a new world was no mere fancy, but a reasoned theory built on actual experience.

If in these present times, people can combine the daring of the adventurer, with the practical knowledge of the man who goes to the bottom of his subject, they will in their own way accomplish something of the achievements of the man whose fame is observed on October 12.

WORLD SERIES BASE BALL

Those who claim the American people spend all their energy in dollar chasing, probably never attended a world series ball game. If they would have seen many thousands stirred to their inmost depths, by a contest by which most of them would not win or lose a red cent.

Also all over the country, people hang around bulletin boards to find out about a competition that does not affect them at all personally. This intense absorption in a mere game results from the keen love which Americans have for skill or accomplishment of any kind. They like people to do things. Anything visible to the eye attracts more notice than mere intangible triumphs. So a sport like baseball displays prowess in the most obvious and thrilling form, and naturally excites enthusiasm. The American people reveal their love for all forms of achievement when they almost yell the roof off the grand stand at the world series games.

WHO SHALL PAY?

The worst injury to the roads is done by big motor trucks. Some people feel that the industries that ship by truck should pay a greater share of highway cost.

Yet if you taxed them heavily for road improvement, they would add the assessment to prices of their product. The consumers would have to pay it.

It would hasten highway improvement, if people living along roads which it is proposed to improve, would submit to a special tax. The neighborhoods that have had little road money kick on highway taxes.

It would also help if those who operate pleasure cars would pay heavier registration fees, to be assigned to highway work. Improved roads save wear and tear on cars and tires. Automobile owners might get the money back which they put into road betterment.

THE AUTOMOBILE INDUSTRY

The growth of the automobile business is one of the greatest triumphs of American sportsmans toy Great masses of the people regarded them as impractical and favored ruling them off the highways.

Today the automobile industry is the biggest maker of finished products in America. One person out of every thirteen owns some kind of a automotive machine. In England there is only one such machine to every 268 persons.

The popularizing of automobiles has a fremendous influence to put the United States in the front of the world's business procession The nation that ploughs its fields with the tractor and transports its products by truck with little re-handling, and that economizes time by the motor car, is a nation that can not be beaten in industrial competition.

It being urged that the school girls should dress uniformly they are maintaining regular discipline by all pasting their hair down over their ears.

Many people claim that their most cherished ideals have been shattered since the war, and it is even claimed that baseball is crooked.

There is something wrong with the mental twist of a man who admits that he likes restaurant pie.

For this week an exceptionally fine program has been arranged as the feature for the opening of the vaudeville season Four acts of the finest and highest class entertainment that could be secured will head the program, which will consist also of a fine motion picture "White Lies," starring Gladys Brockwell There will be matinee each afternoon and two shows in the evening The same show will be repeated on Friday 1t

"THREE GOLD COINS."

The story of "3 Gold Coins", the latest William Fox production, starring Tom Mix, "the daredevil of the screen" which will be at the Olympic theatre today and tomorrow is laid in "Four Corners," a town built expressly for this pecture near Maxville, Cal This town was built at considerable cost, and like all Western towns, it has a theatre, a general store, a hotel, a garge and a town hall There is an up-to date touch in the absence of a saloon, which hitherto has always been conspicuous in Western pictures

Margaret Loomis the beautiful and talented leading woman in Tom Mix's latest thriller, "3 Gold Coins" formerly played in vaudeville and for several years appeared in dances with Ruth St Denis, the famous exponent of the terpsichorean art She is a striking brunette, and is in her early twenties

Unnaturalized aliens who persist in toting guns will shortly come in for explanations in the event county authorities carry out the instructions of state officials

Word from Harrisburg is to the effect that the alien is persisting in his illegal ownership of both guns and dogs and that his arrest will follow unless he can prove conclusively that he has taken out citizenship papers

"This offense is becoming all too common," a missive received from Harrisburg by county sportsmen read "and must be handled with an iron hand Sportsmen and authorities alike are asked to check up and aid the state in its campaign against the use of both guns and dogs by unnaturalized aliens says "Eugenics is a necessary factor in the future of the race The average American girl is unfit for motherhood" This may be true, but if weak and ailing girls passing from girlhood to womanhood would only rely, as thousands do, upon Lydia E. Races at Monongahela Oct. 13-14

Two great days of harness racing are promised for this section of the valley in an announcement made from Monongahela. The dates selected are October 13 and 14, at which time horses entered in the Greene County Agricultural Society Fair at Carmichaels for October 5, 6, 7 and 8 have been entered for the races as well as a number of others from the Lake Erie circuit.

As now arranged four races will be held each day, three harness and one running race, with a merchants' stake trot in the 2:14 class announced for Thursday. This feature will be hotly contested

Races will begin at 1:30 each day thus allowing ample time to complete the program before dark on each date.

The Monongahela track is one of the best half mile speedways in the country, and while the grounds have been neglected in recent years, the track has been kept in good shape for racing. It is anticipated that record crowds will be in attendance on both days, for horse racing has always had a strong hold on the sport loving public. Many good horses will be entered for the various events.

U. of P. Opened With Large Enrollment

Pittsburgh, Oct. 5---The school year of the University of Pittsburgh opened last week with an enrollment in excess of 5,000 students, the largest in the history o fthe institution, with every prospect that several hundred more may enroll within the next few days. The largest increases are in the School of Economics, the School of Mines, and the Graduate School, although all departments of the University showed considerable gains over last year's registration figures.

To provide the larger facilities needed for the increased enrollment, the University authorities are rushing to completion Alumni Hall which is the gift of Pitt graduates to the school. The construction of this building was delayed during the summer months by strikes in the builders trades, but every effort is being made to have the building ready for occupancy before December. Alumni Hall will accommodate more than 2,000 students each class hour, and is considered to be one of the finest recitation halls in the country. Additional facilities have also been provided by the purchase of the Central Athletic Club building, and the erection of a new school of Engineering Laboratory building.

The University faculty has been increased by new appointments during the summer, until it now numbers over 500 full time teachers, in addition to many special lecturers, laboratory assistants and part time instructors.

Indictments Returned Against Grafters

Washington, Oct. 5.---Indictments against eight persons in connection with the alleged graft of thousands of dollars from World War veterans were returned here today by a grand jury. The money was alleged to have been obtained from the soldiers in return for promised aid in obtaining settlement of war risk insurance.

Daniel E. O'Keefe and Aloysius A. Young, both of New Britain, Conn., and six residents of this city were the persons named in the indictments which charged unlawful extraction of government records, conspiracy to commit an offense against the United States and unlawful acceptance of fees by government employees.

COUGHING SPELLS

Stop Them Before The Inflammation Becomes Dangerous

Coughing is far worse than merely annoying to the person afflicted and everybody else within hearing distance. It means that the membranes of the throat and lungs have become raw and inflamed. Besides weakening you, it exposes the system to dread diseases like Pneumonia and Diphtheria.

Take no chances with a cough. Bathe the throat and chest with warm water and dry thoroughly in order to get the pores well open. Apply Krew-Pina and work in by brisk rubbing—it will not blister. Melt a little in a pan over a fire and inhale the medicinal vapors. Repeat these applications until relieved.

Krew-Pina is the tremendously successful household ointment, prepared by a scientific formula from harmless home remedies, including Oil of Pine, and other volatile oils, in a petroleum base. Use as directed in cases of bronchitis, croup, tonsilitis, rheumatism, soreness, bruises, cuts, scalds, bites, etc. home remedies, including Oil of Pine, at your druggist's—30c and 60c jars.
